

ABSTRACT: The invention relates to a manifold for mixing biomedical fluids having superior stability and minimal susceptibility to clotting.